Pike Dreams Come True at Big Sand!

June 2007, Big Sand lake Lodge – By Carl E. Olson

It started out like any other day for a novice fisherman. Rising early — but how can you tell? — it never gets dark here. After a hearty breakfast by our cook Carole and dressed in layers just like the pros with my ultra light Dri Ducks rain gear. My tackle box is a Snoopy Catch'em box borrowed from my 7 year old. All 6 compartments had been carefully filled with lures that I hand-picked just days earlier from Cabellas. The bottom held my sunscreen, 50 SPF of course and insect repellent with 30% DEET.

We loaded the 2 boats, most everyone had at least 2 rods, but I was ready, and only moderately intimidated. Chet, by far the master fisherman, was with Eldon in second boat.

Today, Dave was my partner, I'm sure because he was the most patient or perhaps drew the shortest straw the night before. With Dave at the helm, I pushed off and jumped on the boat, resulting in only a small tear in the rain gear. Off we went, the Yamaha engines purring. The fact that I caught the first fish the day before was long forgotten by everyone except me. "Mere novice luck" — it was written everywhere. That morning of great fishing (including my catching the smallest Northern of the trip) ended with a spectacular Walleye shore lunch created and served in the splendor of pristine wilderness lakes, does it get any better?

Later That Evening...

"I think I've got a fish."
"%$#@*#$" is the rejoinder.
"No, No, this is a fish, a big fish!" says the quiet Norwegian.

I could now almost always tell the difference between a snag and a fish. My drag was set but the line kept going out. I'd read about this and my adrenaline started pumping. Eventually, after many line peeling runs, we managed to get this monster pike close to the boat and a deft cradle job by Dave brought her into the boat. Our second boat was attracted by the sounds of screaming, not mine, of course, and came to help with the formality of measuring and picture taking. A 48-inch Northern Pike by official tape measure. "A fish so big one doesn't have to lie about it."

We quickly released her and she lives to once again be caught and let go. Oh, yeah, what did you catch her on? A now torn up Mepps #3 Aglia, orange, yellow and green that I purchased myself. This goes to prove once again — "It's not the size of your lure, but how you use it!"

The Main Lodge "Go World Class"

Situated high atop an ancient glacial esker, the main lodge was built with the guests' needs foremost in mind. The lodge features hundreds of square feet of glass providing the eye with a sweeping view of nature's northern waters and thick patterns of birch and pine that serves as a background while dining or relaxing. The lodge is further complimented with a wet bar, entertainment room, six-man Jacuzzi with adjacent sauna and a tackle shop which is fully equipped with the specific lures you'll need to land our monster fish. Located on the upper level of the lodge we developed a separate conference room for private meetings. Our executive conference room is fully furnished with audio/visual equipment, board tables and chairs. Everything is provided to conduct a productive sales meeting in an environment that lends itself to the outside beauty awaiting you just a few feet away. Call for details on how you can turn your business meeting into a business adventure.

Big Sand Lake Lodge accommodates 32 guests. This has been made possible with the addition of what we like to call "The Penthouse". The Penthouse is fully furnished, can accommodate up to 4 people, and shares all the amenities of the other cabins but with its own unique charm. What better place to have as your "home away from home" while on your fishing adventure.

Daily Fly-Outs

For guests staying at our Main Lodge on Big Sand Lake you'll have the option of flying to one of several remote fishing lakes for the day. Accompanied by your guide, you'll depart the floatplane dock at approximately 7:30 am and return back to the lodge in time for supper. This is only an option as we guarantee you great success fishing at the main lodge. The option to fly out with your guide for the day only adds to the memories of your fishing trip and it is not something you need to do in order to be where the big ones are. If you've never been in a 1946 Norseman flying over the Canadian wilderness before, it's an adventure you'll never forget. Chupka Lake is accessible at the south end of LeClair Lake and the walleye and pike action in these waters demands a days visit. Longly Lake is a new Lake and bound to produce many Pike and Lake Trout. Morand Lake is a 25 minute flight and a hot bed for trophy Lake Trout in June and July. Arctic Grayling enthusiasts will want to venture to the Seal River to experience fishing from a jet boat in the fast moving waters for these precious trophies.

Evening Fishing at No Extra Charge!

Now how great is that!?

Fishery biologists have concluded that fish don't stop feeding after 5pm. So here at Big Sand Lake Lodge we asked ourselves, "Why should our guests stop fishing?" Leaving the dock at 8am with your guide, you'll fish all day on Canada's premiere catch and release lake. Returning to the lodge around 5:30pm you'll be treated to hors d'oeuvres in the Lodge and a complimentary cocktail at the bar. You may want to relax in your private log cabin or sit out on the deck over looking the vast landscape of the Canadian North. Then head upstairs to our newly furnished games room for a game of pool, ping-pong, darts or cards. After your home cooked meal which is served in our stunning dining room you'll be approached by your guide asking you if a couple of hours of evening fishing are in your plans. Why not? After all that's why you're here!

Running a Wilderness Lodge

As manager of Big Sand Lake Lodge in northern Manitoba, Rick Bohna thrives in his role of juggling several jobs at once

By Brad Dokken
Herald Staff Writer

BIG SAND LAKE, MAN. — Keeping a wilderness fishing lodge ticking through a busy summer season is a challenge that keeps Rick Bohna wound up year-round.

Bohna, 45, manages Big Sand Lake Lodge for the Cree Indian community of South Indian Lake, Man., which owns the facility located 525 miles north of Winnipeg. In that role, he oversees a staff of 40, recruits visitors to fill the lodge and its four outpost camps, and juggles all the details that keep the place running. Considering the lodge's remote location, the logistics alone are staggering. Whether it's produce for the kitchen, beer for the bar or spare parts for a broken outboard, everything has to be flown in.

"I've been working a month and a half before I get up here," Bohna, of Winnipeg, said. "I sit there and run through scenarios in my mind during the off season. I try to picture everything. Every day, there's a new challenge that pops up. There's never a dull moment."

That probably explains why Bohna's fishing rods still stand packed in their protective cases behind the door in his office.

employees, Bohna says. "I catch a whiff of booze on an employee, and the prop is spinning," he said.

Celebrity guests

As a five-star facility, Big Sand Lake Lodge also is an occasional haven for the rich and famous. Among them are former President Jimmy Carter and first lady Rosalynn Carter, who fished Big Sand in 1993. A picture of the president helping his guide measure a trophy pike occupies a prominent place in the lodge. Bohna wouldn't name names, but he said Hollywood actors and pro athletes also have visited the lodge seeking to escape the limelight.

Catching walleyes for shore lunch typically is first on the agenda, an assignment that usually takes only a few minutes to complete, and then it's off to fish pike or lake trout.

After a Canadian shore lunch of fresh-caught walleye, fried potatoes and beans on one of the lake's several sand-beach eating sites, there's more fishing on the menu until 6 p.m., when it's back to the lodge for supper at 7. That's followed by two more hours of guided fishing from 8 to 10 p.m. for those who haven't had enough.

"People are coming here for the fishing. That's first and foremost," Bohna said. "I'm dealing with people on holidays. It's a nice fit for me. I enjoy it. If I didn't enjoy it, I wouldn't take this much time away from my family" in Winnipeg. "I like to say I've put in more hours on this job than anything I've done in my life, and I haven't worked since 1997."

Training a key

Unemployment is high in South Indian Lake, and Bohna says applicants far exceed jobs at Big Sand Lake Lodge. The community was relocated in 1974 after a hydropower project on the Churchill River flooded the original town. Bohna has a thick stack of applications from people in South Indian Lake seeking employment.

"These people want to work hard," he said. "They want to make things happen for you. It's prestigious to be up here. "This is not just a job; it's a lifestyle, almost."

At the lodge, that lifestyle includes a zero-tolerance policy for drugs and alcohol among Guest Testimonials...

"Beyond a doubt, on of the nicest vacations ever. The fishing was great!

— Brenda Schlegel

Hey Rick, I really appreciated the extra effort from Allan and from the Staff!! Allan went above the call of duty to help Brittany and I with fishing and the Staff did an excellent job of making our stay exceptional. Thank you to everyone involved with making Brittany's 16th Birthday a memorable one for both her and I.

Thanks, David Wells

Hi Rick,

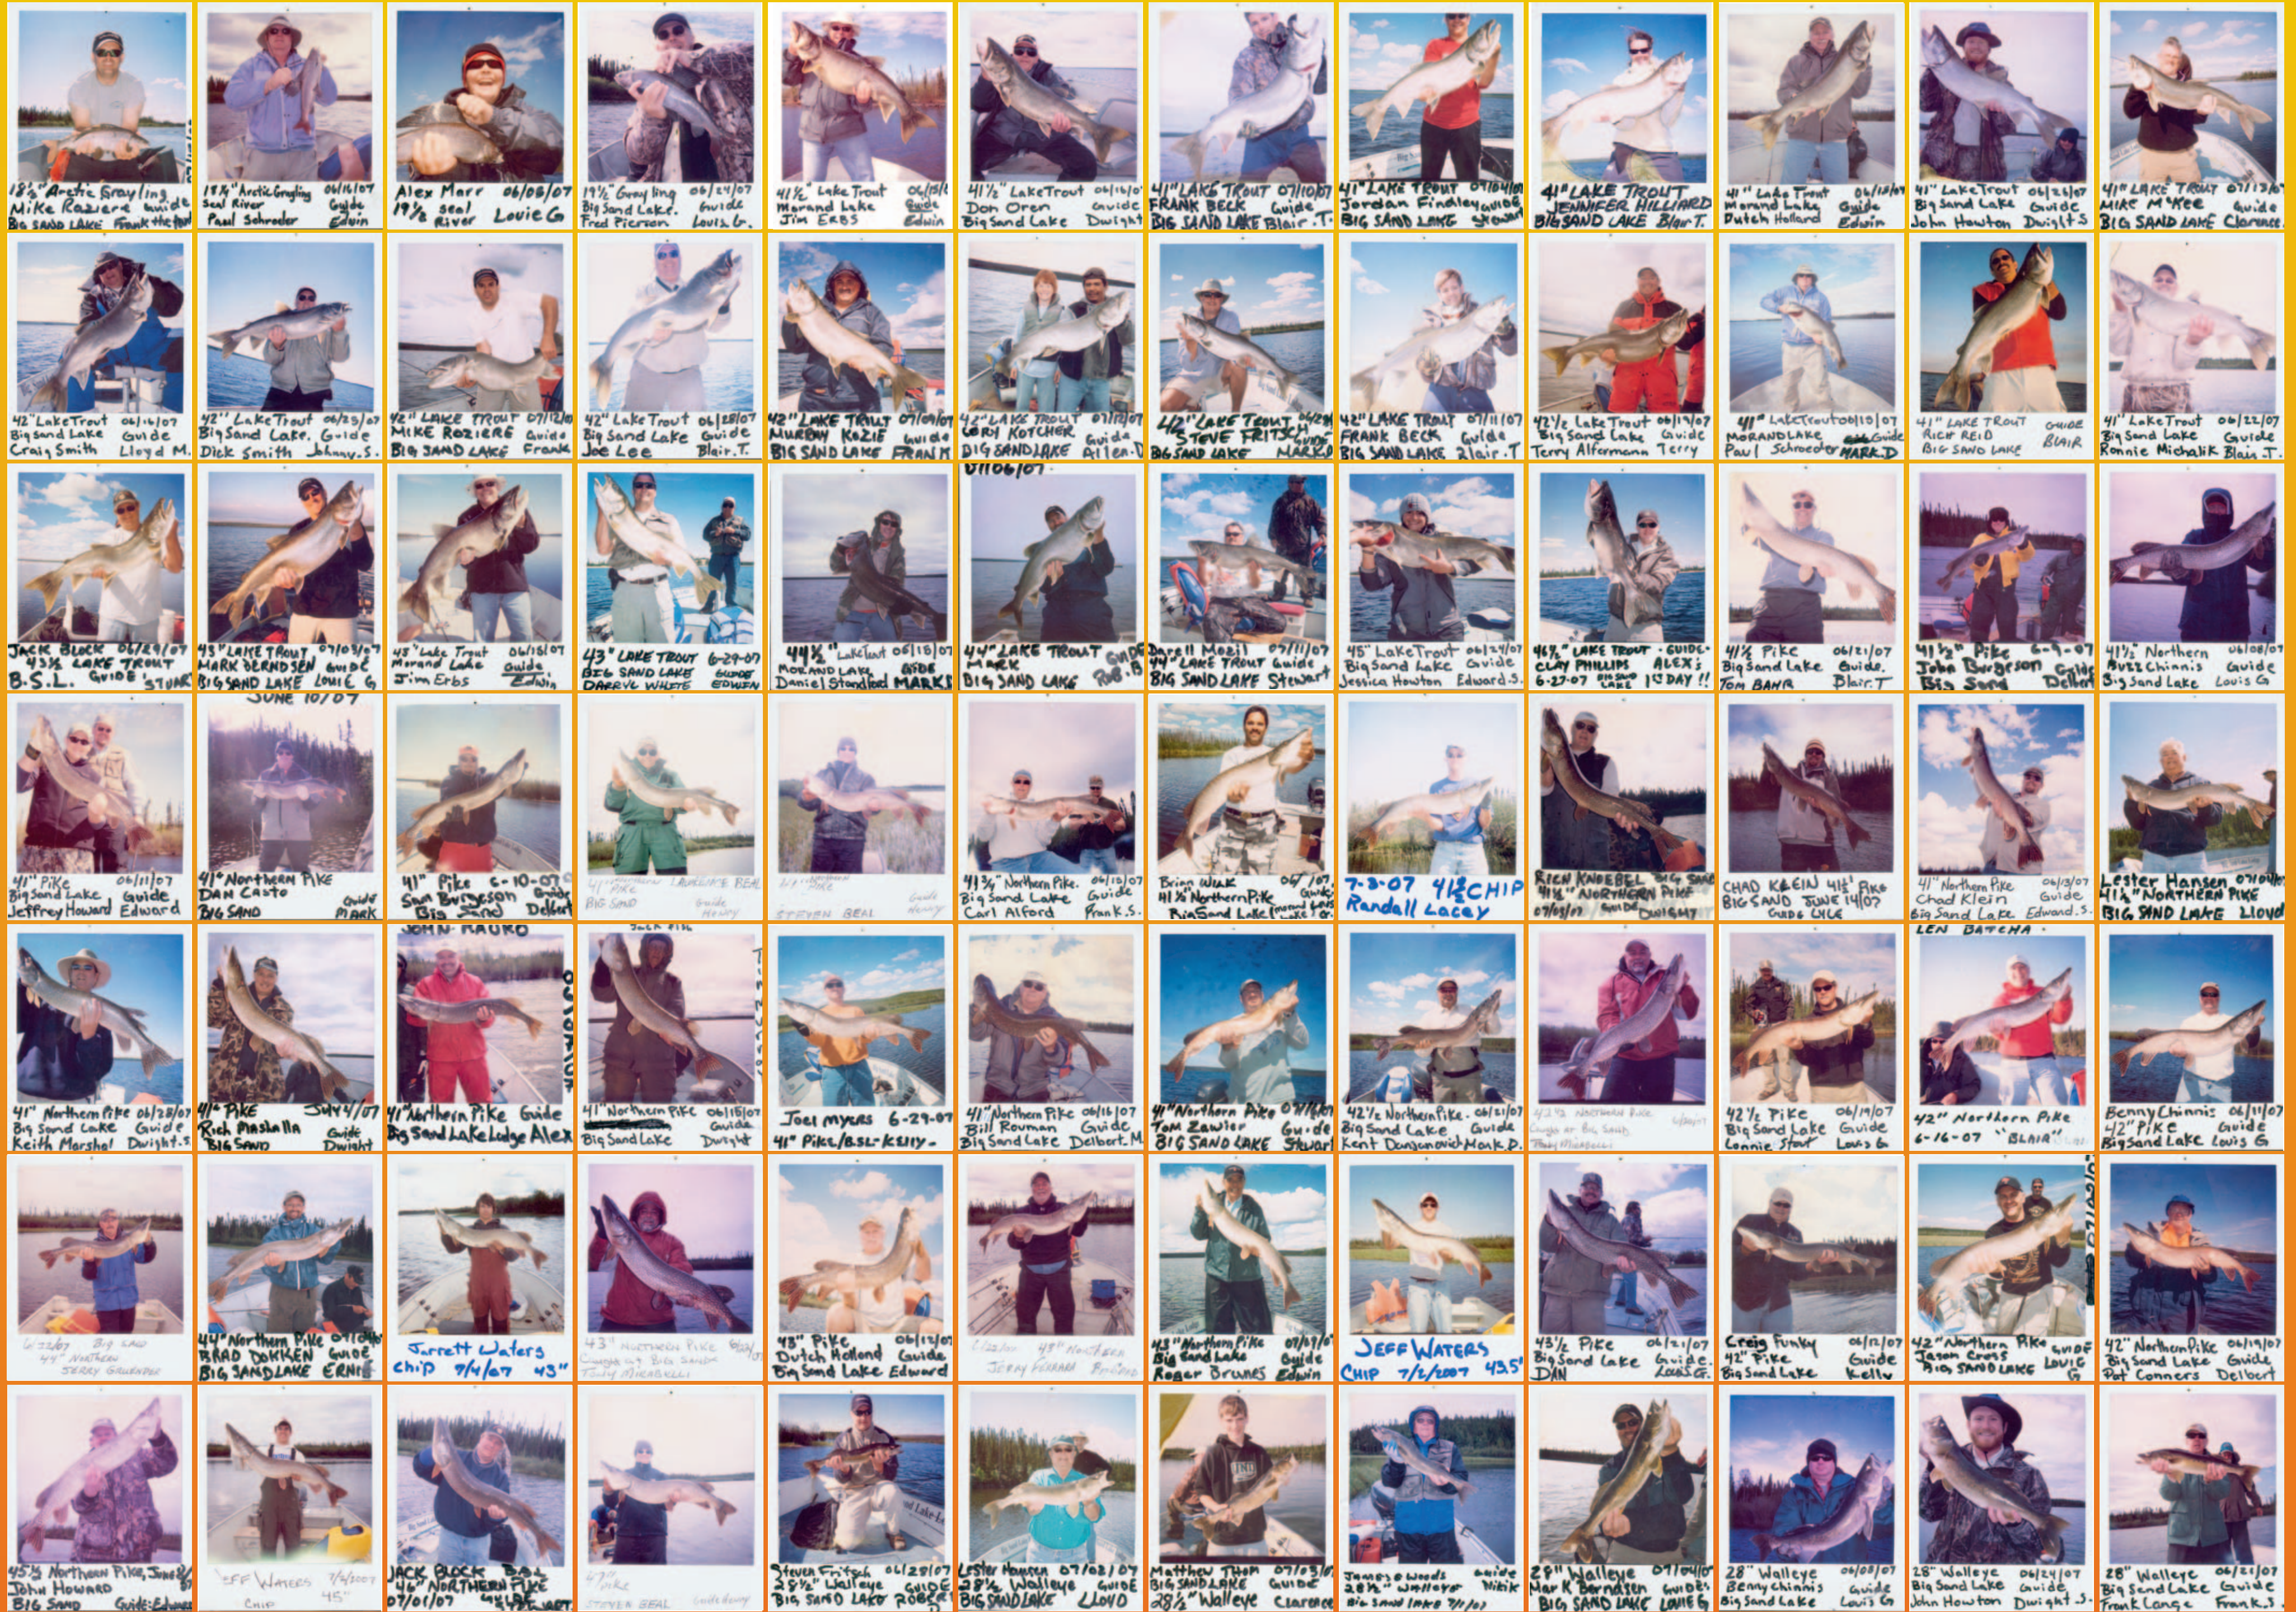

I wanted to take this opportunity to thank you again for another great trip. Last year we had a fantastic time at Jordan Lake and this year we choose to visit LeClair Lake and let me say we did not think it could get any better, Man, were we wrong! The fishing was beyond incredible, Walleye fishing was too good for words, and I enclosed a few pictures of and all I can say is we can't wait to get back there next year.

Wolf Lake Wilderness Camp is located at the north end of Big Sand Lake, where the South Seal River picks up its name. Best known for quality Northern Pike and Walleye action, the South Seal River also features some of the best Arctic Grayling action in Manitoba! Here again many creeks and rivers flow into this system as it gains momentum for its eventual destination of Hudson's Bay. Wolf Lake has many shallow bays and weed beds close to the camp and is also accessible to the north Basin of Big Sand Lake, where the Mistay River leads into the river system from the North West. Wolf Lake is renowned for Trophy Northern's and has a constant flow and in some areas never freezes, even in the coldest of cold. 5 Boats are kept here all summer. See our Wolf Lake Map. Wolf Lake has 1 guest cabin for 6 to 8 people as well as a shower building and a separate Kitchen building.

LeClair Lake Wilderness Camp is the true beginning of the South Seal River system and is adjoined to Big Sand Lake at the very most southern end. Best know for consistently producing Manitoba's Top Northern Pike every year, LeClair Lake has access to 2 excellent lakes all of which have hundreds of great shallow bays and weed beds. Plenty of rock structure also provides ideal habitat for unstoppable Walleye action. Located just north of the camp is North LeClair (Cline Lake) boasting several great bays where Trophy's are waiting and it's not uncommon to watch these monsters follow your hook right up to the boat and then gingerly turn away, as if to say, maybe next time!! Here your skills are truly tested. This lake is a short portage from the main camp and the walk is approximately 15 minutes, we do have a 4 wheeler to transport your gear back and forth, if required. Six boats are kept here all summer. LeClair Lake has 1 guest cabin for 6 to 8 people as well as a shower building and a separate kitchen building where all meals can be prepared. You are on your own, self guiding and preparing your own meals.

Jordan Lake Wilderness Camp is fed from the west and flows north east via the Kitimiwi River to Kitimiwi Lake and into Big Sand Lake. Best known for quality Northern Pike and Walleye action, the north east part of Jordan Lake narrows to become the Kitimiwi River where these fast waters are home to Trophy Arctic Grayling This large lake is fed by numerous small rivers and creeks teaming with fish and all of which have great shallow bays and weed beds. Numerous rock structures also provide ideal habitat for unstoppable walleye action. Jordan Lake has 2 cabins for guests and can hold groups of 2 - 14 people as well as a shower building and a separate kitchen building where all you prepare all your own meals. Jordan Lake Wilderness camp allows you the opportunity to have an entire lake to yourself. Jordan Lake will accept smaller groups of 2, 3, 4 and 5 people with a maximum capacity of 14. If you're looking for seldom fished waters Jordan is your place to go.
